1. A word from our leadership

Insurance is one of the few products a client buys hoping never to use. That makes it unlike almost anything else on the market: its true quality is only revealed at the worst moment of a client's year. We built GoldOak around that single truth.

Since 2020 we have worked as an independent intermediary in the Kenyan market, sitting on the client's side of the table. We are not tied to one underwriter and we are not paid to push one product. Our value lies in understanding a risk properly, placing it with the insurer best suited to carry it, and then staying present through renewal, adjustment and — when it comes — the claim.

The Kenyan insurance market has matured considerably. Underwriters are stronger, products are broader, and regulation under the Insurance Regulatory Authority has raised the floor for everyone. What has not kept pace, in many cases, is service. Clients still describe the same frustrations: cover they did not fully understand, exclusions discovered too late, and claims that go quiet.

Our answer is unglamorous and deliberate. We document the advice we give. We explain exclusions before a policy is signed, not after. We acknowledge every claim within one working day and we tell clients the truth about timelines, including when the news is unwelcome. We treat client data as something held in trust, in line with the Data Protection Act, 2019.

This profile sets out who we are, what we place, how we work and what we commit to. We invite you to hold us to it.

We would rather lose an account on price than win it on a policy we knew would not respond.

3. Who we are

GoldOak Insurance Agency is a licensed and registered insurance intermediary in Kenya, regulated by the Insurance Regulatory Authority. We partner with leading underwriters to deliver reliable, accessible and client-focused solutions across multiple sectors. Since 2020 our agency has prioritised clarity, integrity and excellence in service delivery, ensuring each client receives tailored protection that meets their exact needs.

An agency sits between the client and the insurer. Our independence matters: because we place business with a panel of underwriters rather than a single company, we can compare terms honestly and recommend on merit. Our remuneration comes from the insurer as commission, so our advice costs the client nothing at the point of purchase.

- Advise — We start with exposure, not with a product. What could go wrong, how badly, and how likely.
- Place — We take that risk to the market, gather competing terms and present them side by side in plain language.
- Serve — We remain the client's contact for endorsements, renewals, disputes and claims for the life of the policy.

The oak in our name is deliberate. It is slow-growing, deep-rooted and it does not move in a

4. Vision, mission and promise

Vision — To be the most trusted insurance agency in Kenya, known for integrity, service excellence and client-first solutions.

Mission — To equip clients with comprehensive, affordable and tailor-made insurance solutions that meet their specific needs.

Our promise — We stay with you from policy to payout.

The test we apply: Before any recommendation leaves our desk we ask one question: if this client suffers the loss they are insuring against, will this policy actually respond? If the honest answer is no, or not fully, we say so and we fix it before the policy is placed.

5. Core values

01. Customer centricity — We prioritise our clients' needs above all else, ensuring every decision we make aligns with their goals and expectations.

In practice: no recommendation is made without a documented needs assessment.

02. Integrity — We foster transparency, honesty and ethical conduct in all interactions.

In practice: exclusions, limits and excesses are disclosed in writing before purchase.

03. Solution-driven — We seek to understand each client's risks and identify the most effective coverage options.

In practice: at least three comparable market quotations wherever the market allows.

04. Value for money — We ensure our clients access competitive products that provide optimal benefits.

In practice: price is compared alongside cover breadth, not in isolation from it.

05. Ongoing support — We provide continuous post-sale service, including claims assistance and policy updates.

In practice: a named account contact, renewal review 30 days ahead of expiry.

6. What sets us apart

01. A trusted partner since 2020 — Long enough to have handled real claims across every line we place, and to have learned which underwriters perform under pressure.

02. Licensed and regulated by the IRA — We operate under the Insurance Act and IRA licensing, with annual renewal, premium-handling discipline and a documented complaints procedure.

03. Access to Kenya's leading underwriters — A broad panel means genuine comparison. We are not obliged to place your risk anywhere in particular, so we can place it well.

04. Competitive premiums, uncompromised service — We negotiate on price, but we never trade away cover the client will need. Where a cheaper quote is materially narrower, we show you exactly where.

05. Full support from setup to claim resolution — One relationship, end to end. The person who advised on your cover is the person who helps you claim on it.

7. Our solutions

Medical insurance

Medical cover is the most frequently used policy most clients will ever hold, and the one where the small print does the most damage. We place individual, family and corporate schemes, and we make the limits, waiting periods and exclusions explicit before you sign.

What it covers

- Inpatient cover – hospital accommodation, surgery, consultants and prescribed treatment up to the chosen limit.
- Outpatient cover – consultations, diagnostics, prescribed drugs and specialist referrals.
- Maternity – antenatal care, delivery (normal and caesarean) and postnatal cover, subject to the waiting period.
- Dental – routine treatment, extractions and, on selected plans, restorative work.
- Optical – eye examinations, frames and lenses within the plan sub-limit.
- Access to a panel of accredited hospitals and clinics nationwide.

Options & extensions

- Last-expense and funeral benefit.
- Personal accident rider for the principal member.
- Chronic and pre-existing condition cover, where the underwriter allows it.
- Regional or international treatment for referred conditions.
- Emergency road and air evacuation.
- Corporate schemes with staff and dependant tiers.

Who it suits: Families wanting predictable healthcare costs, self-employed professionals without employer cover, and businesses using medical benefits to attract and retain staff.

Our adviser's note: Three numbers decide whether a medical policy works: the inpatient limit, the outpatient limit, and the waiting periods. A low premium usually means one of those three has been cut. We will show you which one before you commit.

Points to check before you buy

- Waiting periods: commonly 30 days for illness and 10-12 months for maternity.
- Outpatient, dental and optical carry separate sub-limits, not the main limit.
- Pre-existing and chronic conditions are usually capped, deferred or excluded.

Life assurance and education plans

Life products answer a blunt question: if your income stopped tomorrow, what would happen to the people who depend on it. We advise across pure protection and savings-linked products, and we are candid about which does what.

What it covers

- Term life – a defined sum assured over a fixed period; the cheapest way to buy a large death benefit.
- Whole life – lifelong cover with a savings element that builds cash value over time.
- Education plans – a disciplined savings vehicle that continues to fund school fees if the parent dies or is disabled.
- Income protection – a monthly benefit if illness or injury stops you earning.
- Credit life – settles an outstanding loan on death or permanent disability.
- Future finance guidance – structuring cover alongside retirement and estate objectives.

Options & extensions

- Critical illness rider covering named conditions.
- Permanent and total disability benefit.
- Waiver of premium on disability.
- Accidental death benefit multiplier.
- Increasing sum assured to track inflation.
- Joint-life cover for couples and business partners.

Who it suits: Anyone with dependants, a mortgage or a business loan; parents planning for school and university fees; business partners protecting each other against the loss of a key person.

Our adviser's note: Do not confuse protection with investment. If your priority is that your family is financially secure, buy term cover with a serious sum assured first. Savings-linked products have their place, but they buy less protection per shilling.

Points to check before you buy

- Non-disclosure of health history is a leading cause of declined death claims.
- Suicide and specified exclusions typically apply for the first 12-24 months.
- Surrender values on savings products are low in the early policy years.

Motor insurance

We place private, commercial and PSV motor cover. The right answer depends on how the vehicle earns or spends money for you, and on what you could not afford to replace out of pocket.

What it covers

- Comprehensive – accidental damage to your own vehicle, fire, theft and third-party liability.
- Third-party only – the statutory minimum, covering injury and damage you cause to others.
- Third-party fire and theft – the statutory cover plus loss of your own vehicle to fire or theft.

- Commercial motor — own goods and general cartage vehicles.
- PSV — matatus, buses, taxis and ride-hailing vehicles, with statutory passenger liability.
- Fleet arrangements with consolidated renewal dates and negotiated rates.

Options & extensions

- Excess protector, removing the standard own-damage excess.
- Political violence and terrorism extension.
- Loss of use / courtesy car allowance.
- Windscreen, radio and accessory cover above the standard limit.
- Personal accident cover for the driver and occupants.
- Towing, roadside assistance and emergency repair.

Who it suits: Private owners, businesses running delivery or staff vehicles, PSV operators meeting statutory requirements, and fleet managers seeking a single renewal cycle.

Our adviser's note: Two things quietly void motor claims: driving outside the declared use, and an unlicensed or unauthorised driver. If your vehicle's use changes — private to commercial, personal to ride-hailing – tell us the same week. The endorsement costs far less than a declined claim.

Points to check before you buy

- Declared use must match actual use: private, commercial or PSV.
- The own-damage excess applies per claim unless an excess protector is bought.
- Most insurers require an annual valuation on comprehensive cover.

Property and general insurance

Property cover protects the physical base a household or business operates from. The most common failure is not the absence of a policy but a sum insured set years ago and never revisited.

What it covers

- Fire and perils – fire, lightning, explosion, and named additional perils including flood and storm.
- Burglary and theft – forcible entry to premises, with stock and contents cover.
- Domestic package – buildings, contents, all-risks items, domestic staff and owner's liability in one policy.
- All risks – specified high-value portable items such as laptops, phones, cameras and jewellery, covered anywhere.

- Business interruption – loss of gross profit and standing charges while you cannot trade.
- Landlord and tenant arrangements including rent loss cover.

Options & extensions

- Political violence and terrorism extension.
- Riot, strike and civil commotion.
- Subsidence and landslip, where available.
- Alternative accommodation while the home is uninhabitable.
- Plate glass and signage.
- Employer's liability for domestic staff under WIBA.

Who it suits: Homeowners and landlords, tenants insuring contents, retailers and wholesalers holding stock, and any business whose premises are essential to trading.

Our adviser's note: Underinsurance is the trap. If your buildings are insured for half their rebuilding cost, the average clause allows the insurer to pay half of even a small claim. We recommend a valuation review at least every three years, and immediately after any major improvement.

Points to check before you buy

- Average applies: underinsure the sum and the insurer pays proportionally less.
- Burglary cover generally requires evidence of forcible and violent entry.
- Unoccupancy beyond 30 days can suspend cover unless it is notified.

Group and corporate insurance

Employee benefits are simultaneously a duty, a cost and a retention tool. We design, place and administer schemes so that the employer's obligations are met and the staff actually understand what they have.

What it covers

- Group medical – inpatient and outpatient schemes with staff, spouse and dependant tiers.
- Group life – a multiple of salary payable to a member's beneficiaries on death.
- WIBA – statutory cover for work-related injury, illness and death under the Work Injury Benefits Act.
- Group personal accident – 24-hour cover extending beyond working hours.
- Pension and retirement schemes – umbrella and standalone arrangements.
- Group credit life for SACCOs and lending institutions.

Options & extensions

- Last-expense benefit with rapid payout for funeral costs.
- Critical illness cover on a group basis.
- Total and permanent disability benefits.
- Employee wellness and screening programmes.
- Free cover limits negotiated to reduce medical underwriting.
- Staff education sessions at onboarding and renewal.

Who it suits: Employers of any size with statutory WIBA obligations, growing companies formalising benefits, SACCOs protecting member loan books, and NGOs meeting donor requirements.

Our adviser's note: WIBA is not optional and it is not covered by a general liability policy. Employers are also frequently surprised that group medical renewal pricing is driven by their own claims experience — which means scheme design and staff education directly affect next year's premium.

Points to check before you buy

- WIBA is a statutory duty; penalties apply for non-compliance, not just loss.
- Renewal pricing follows your own claims experience, not the market average.

- Member lists must stay current: staff not listed are staff not covered.

Executive and high-net-worth covers

Clients with substantial or unusual assets are poorly served by standard retail products. We build consolidated arrangements that hold the whole picture – properties, vehicles, valuables, travel and liability – under one review cycle.

What it covers

- Consolidated household cover across multiple properties, including second homes and holiday residences.
- High-value and prestige motor, including collections and limited-use vehicles.
- Fine art, jewellery, watches and collectibles on an agreed-value basis.
- Worldwide all-risks cover for portable valuables.
- Personal and family liability at meaningful limits.
- International private medical cover with global treatment access.

Options & extensions

- Kidnap, ransom and extortion cover.
- Domestic staff employer's liability and personal accident.

- Yacht, marine and aviation interests.
- Directors' and officers' liability for personal board positions.
- Emergency medical evacuation and repatriation.
- Annual portfolio review with a single named adviser.

Who it suits: Business owners, senior executives, professionals with significant personal assets, and families holding property or investments across more than one jurisdiction.

Our adviser's note: At this level, discretion and speed matter as much as limits. We restrict handling of private client files to a single named adviser, keep documentation minimal but complete, and agree in advance who may be contacted about a claim.

Points to check before you buy

- Agreed-value items require current professional valuations on file.
- Security warranties such as alarms and safes are conditions, not suggestions.
- Worldwide extensions may carry territorial limits or trip-duration caps.

8. Specialist and commercial lines

Public liability · Professional indemnity · Directors' & officers' · Goods in transit · Marine cargo · Contractors' all risks · Money & fidelity guarantee · Machinery & electronic equipment · Political violence & terrorism · Travel insurance · Personal accident · Cyber liability

Placement of specialist lines depends on underwriter appetite at the time of enquiry.

9. Sectors we serve

10. Our process — securing your insurance cover

01. Consultation & needs assessment (1–3 days)

We meet, in person or remotely, and map what you actually need to protect — assets, liabilities, people and income. Existing policies are reviewed for gaps and duplication.

Output: a written summary of exposures and cover objectives.

02. Custom proposal & competitive quotes (3–5 days)

We approach the underwriters best suited to your risk and return with comparable terms, presented side by side — premium, limits, excesses and the exclusions that matter.

Output: a comparison schedule with our recommendation stated and reasoned.

03. Guidance on selection (Same week)

We walk you through the options and answer the awkward questions. You decide with a clear view of what is covered, what is not, and what it will cost to close any remaining gap.

Output: a signed proposal form and confirmed instruction to place.

04. Onboarding & activation (1–3 days)

We place the risk, confirm cover, and deliver your policy documents, schedule and certificates. Premium payment terms and any warranties are confirmed in writing.

Output: policy documents, certificate and a client service pack.

05. Ongoing client support (Continuous)

Endorsements, additions, queries and claims run through your named contact. We initiate the renewal review well before expiry so nothing lapses by accident.

Output: renewal review at 30 days to expiry; annual portfolio check.

11. Claims management

Insurance claims can be complex and time-consuming. With GoldOak, you are never alone. We act as your representative to the insurer, not the insurer's representative to you.

1. Notify — Tell us as soon as you become aware. Late notification is one of the most common reasons good claims fail.
2. Document — We assist with documentation and evidence gathering, and tell you precisely which forms and proofs the insurer will require.
3. Engage — We engage underwriters and appointed claims assessors promptly, and chase them when they go quiet.
4. Update — We provide regular updates throughout the process, including when there is no news to give.
5. Resolve — We follow through until your compensation is disbursed — and we challenge a decision where we believe it is wrong.

What we need from you

- Notify us immediately – by phone, then in writing.
- Do not admit liability or agree a settlement with a third party.
- Preserve evidence: photographs, damaged items, the scene where safe.
- Report to the police where the loss involves theft, fire or injury.
- Provide the claim form fully completed and signed.
- Supply supporting documents: invoices, valuations, medical reports.
- Keep premium payments current – an unpaid policy may not respond.
- Tell us of anything that changes the risk, before it changes.

Our promise: we stay with you from policy to payout.

13. Our underwriting partners

Jubilee General Insurance · Allianz · UAP Old Mutual · Britam · NCBA Insurance · GA Insurance · APA Insurance · ICEA LION Group · Pioneer Insurance · CIC Insurance · Prudential · Takaful Insurance of Africa · First Assurance

We partner with Kenya's most trusted underwriters to ensure you receive exceptional protection at the most competitive premiums. Partner panels change as market appetite and financial strength change.

How we choose where to place your risk: financial strength · claims record · policy wording · price (considered last, and always against the cover it buys).

14. Governance and client protection

Licensing and regulation — GoldOak Insurance

Agency operates under the Insurance Act (Cap 487) and is licensed by the Insurance Regulatory Authority. Our licence is renewed annually and our licence number is disclosed on request and on our quotations and policy correspondence.

Handling of premiums — Client premiums are remitted to the underwriter within the periods required by law and are never applied to agency operating expenses. Receipts are issued for every payment and clients are encouraged to pay to official agency or insurer accounts only.

Data protection — We collect personal data — including health and financial information — only where it is necessary to place or service cover. Processing is carried out in line with the Data Protection Act, 2019: lawful basis, purpose limitation, retention limits and the client's rights of access, correction and erasure.

Anti-money laundering — We apply customer due diligence and record-keeping consistent with Kenya's anti-money-laundering framework, including verification of identity and source of funds for large or unusual premium payments.

Conflicts and disclosure — Our remuneration is commission paid by the insurer. Where a placement would put our interest ahead of yours, we disclose it.

We do not accept inducements that would distort a recommendation.

Professional indemnity – The agency maintains professional indemnity cover appropriate to the volume and nature of business placed, protecting clients against loss arising from an error in our advice or administration.

15. Getting started

What we will ask for

- Individuals: national ID or passport, KRA PIN, and contact details.
- Businesses: certificate of incorporation, CR12, KRA PIN and directors' IDs.
- Motor: logbook, valuation report where required, and driver details.
- Property: schedule of assets with values, and location details.
- Medical: member list with dates of birth and any declared conditions.
- Group schemes: staff census, payroll band and current scheme documents.
- Renewals: your expiring policy schedule and claims history.

Questions worth asking us

- Which underwriters did you approach, and which did you not?
- What is specifically excluded from this policy?
- What is my excess, and when does it apply?
- What would make this claim fail?
- How is your commission calculated on this placement?

Ready to review your cover? Send us your current policy schedule and we will tell you, free of charge, where the gaps are.
